Riding Lessons –Spring 2012
March 1 – May 31

Lesson Packages:

Mondays, Fridays, & Saturdays: 8 lessons in a package ($256 for group/$296 for semi-privates)

Tuesdays, Wednesdays & Thursdays: 10 lessons in a package($320 for group/$370 for semi-privates)

General: Our instructional program offers the entire spectrum of hunt-seat instruction, from introductory horsemanship to national hunter/jumper competition; we can meet the needs of any rider. Lessons will be available five days a week during Spring Session. We offer lessons to the general public as well as to AOA students.

-Introductory Lunge Lessons: These lessons will be scheduled on a short term basis until the rider can be placed into an appropriate group or semi-private lesson.

-Beginner: The beginning rider will range from a student who has no experience around a horse to a student who is starting to canter. Introductory lessons cover mounting and dismounting, leading, care, grooming, stirrup adjustments, basic steering, sitting trot, posting trot, and two-point position.

-Novice: The novice rider improves upon cantering with additional lessons in two-point at the canter, trotting poles and cross rails, smooth transitions, and basic half-halts. Students will be able to jump a simple x-rail course and a single 2' jump at the top end of this level.

-Intermediate: The intermediate rider learns such things as simple lead changes, flying lead changes, turns on the forehand and haunches, leg yields, and shoulder-ins. Simple courses at 2' and introduction to 2'6" jumps and oxers will happen at this level, and students should be able to compete at local shows (if desired).

-Advanced: By this time, basic skills are solid. The advanced rider will be able to jump 3' or higher on a variety of mounts. It is suggested that the rider should consider leasing or buying a horse at this level to work on more individual goals. Private or semi-private lessons would be encouraged at this level.

Lesson Rates

Lessons are sold in quarterly packages. Students may sign up anytime and packages can be prorated. All students must complete a registration form. New students may be required to take a private introductory lesson for $35 before starting on their lesson package. Group lessons are scheduled for an hour with a maximum of 5-6 riders per lesson. Semi-private lessons have only 2 riders for a half hour time slot. Private lessons are half an hour and have limited availability; they are $50 a lesson.

Hard soled boots with 1/2" heel (no sneakers!) and long pants are required for a mounted lesson.
